Woman's Club Style Show Smart Season's Event

Torrance Woman's clubhouse, Engracia avenue, was filled to capacity Wednesday evening for the style review and card party sponsored by Torrance Woman's Club. The style review was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Levy, local merchants. Mr. Levy acted as master of ceremonies and described the different garments as they were presented. All the clothes shown were manufactured in Los Angeles and are carried in stock at the Levy store in Torrance.

Children modeled dotted prints, two-piece sports dresses of wool, party dresses of soft silk crepes and fall and winter coats with fur collars. Child models included Neva June Lowen, Eileen Maskrey, Nancy Ann Whyte, Jane Scotten, Elsie May Meinzer and Fatty Lou Rogers. Little Miss Lowen delighted the audience with a song and Eileen won much applause for a recitation.

Misses' and women's clothes shown included morning frocks of searsucker and cotton prints, afternoon dresses of silk and wool in rich browns, wine, greens and blue. Tailored suits with swagger coats and clever blouses in dark shades and plaid.

Evening gowns were of velvet in rich wine and purple, black with metal heads and white lace. Evening wraps of rich velvet. A showing of pajamas, with lounging robes in blue and rose moire, completed the list.

Women and misses who modeled the garments included Miss Broughton and Miss Chandler from the Los Angeles Retail Stores, Mrs. Marie McCray, Miss Evelyn Hayes and Miss Ethel Ward.

The clubhouse was beautifully decorated with palms, dahlias, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The color scheme of yellow and brown prevailed. At the close of bridge play dainty refreshments were served and prizes awarded to Mrs. Ellis Harder, Mrs. C. T. Rippy, J. Miles and Roy Mauleby at bridge, and to Mrs. Clara Baxter, Mrs. C. D. Lowen, Perry Quigley and James Studley at pinochle.

Music during the style promenade was furnished by Mrs. A. W. Johnson at the piano and Walter Zuver, violin.

SHIRLEY ANN IS FIVE YEARS OLD

The fifth birthday of Shirley Ann Phoenix was the incentive for a happy time, when her mother, Mrs. P. A. Phoenix, entertained with a children's party at the family home, 1505 Acacia avenue, Thursday.

Games furnished diversion and refreshments were served to Mary Cassidy, Margaret Suttle, Vivian Fields, Doris Wilkes, Nancy Wilkes, Gadge Hicks, Dolores Day, Betty Ellen Myreck, Teddy Jacobs, Lyle Ingold and Donald Phoenix.

N. B. P. W. DINNER MEETING

After a three months vacation in which various types of entertainment were substituted for the regular dinner meetings of the National Business and Professional Women of Torrance, the club resumed its work for the year with a dinner and program at the Christian church parlors Tuesday evening, October 17.

Mrs. Stella Akire, of the Los Angeles club, was the speaker who gave an interesting half-hour's talk on some of the national aspects of the club work, with recommendations to several of the committees and an outline of their duties.

The musical program was presented by Eugene Butler, baby movie star, who has had leading parts in several recent productions, his latest being the lead in "The Pie-covered Wagon." Eugene sang "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" and "Harvest Moon" and his sweet little voice and manners made a great hit with his audience.

Miss Bunola Kay, well known to radio fans everywhere as the charming vocalist with the Bill Sharples Gang, broadcasting over KNX, sang "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly, and several popular songs. Miss Kay has favored the Torrance club on two other occasions and her presence here Tuesday night was a great satisfaction to all.

The vocalists were accompanied by Madame Teala Billini, club pianist.

The tables were decorated with fall flowers and places were marked with unique cards portraying the professions of the guests, the work of Miss Beatrice Hughes.

The next meeting, a business session, will be held November 6 at the Nurses Home.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Those who attended the recital given Friday evening, October 13, at the Masonic temple, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, heard one of the most delightful musical programs ever given in Torrance. Enthusiastic comment from the members of the audience at the conclusion of the program, marked this affair as a real musical event.

The artists were Lewis Dreyer, baritone, and Madame Teala Billini, both Torrance residents, and both of them performers of the highest type. Madame Billini, who made her professional debut as a concert pianist at Aeolian hall, New York, in 1920, and who, since coming to California, has appeared before many of the leading clubs and musical organizations in Southern California, is acclaimed by all as a brilliant performer. Accurate phrasing, sweeping rhythm, and delicacy of touch, characterize every rendition, and her playing is always up to the highest standards.

Mr. Dreyer, a pupil of Mrs. Helen Ledger, of Los Angeles, has a splendid baritone voice which he uses with increasing skill and artistry. His performance Friday night was a musical revelation to the audience.

SHOWER HONORS MRS. D. A. MURPHY

Heralding the coming of "The Blessed Event" for Mrs. D. A. Murphy, an intimate group of friends were entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Myers, 1230 Cravens avenue, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Sidney Smith were co-hostesses and served delicious dessert at bridge tables decorated in blue and pink. A stork perched in a nest in the center of each table. After the dessert a circle was formed and a shower of gifts for the honoree were presented by the hostesses to Mrs. Murphy. The gifts were placed in a large nest of wire and straw, a stork perched on the side carried a sign on which was printed "Stork's Nest." Sewing for the expected boy or girl furnished diversion for the afternoon. Those invited were Mesdames W. R. Saunders, T. T. Babbitt, Wm. Sager, Lon Ralston, Wilson Woodburn, Dewey Quigley, E. C.
